VISITS WORK HERE

Takes Time From Busy Day Spent Tuesday In Amarillo

Making the seventh speech of one day, Governor James V. Allred highly pleased a large gathering of Canyon citizens and students of W. T. Tuesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in a short talk. The crowd had waited for an hour while the Governor and his party had been detained by the strenuous program outlined for him in Amarillo. The capacity gathering in the auditorium felt repaid for having waited.

"Better days are ahead for Texas and the nation," stated the Governor. However, the drouth of the Panhandle had revealed to him a need of immediate action on the part of the state and federal governments. The Governor wired Washington that this section needed special attention, and he will insist that relief measures be started in Austin to care for this section.

The wonderful spirit of the Panhandle was praised, as the people faced the sand storms to celebrate the mothers-in-law celebration, and to carry on all business activities.

Governor Allred recalled his first visit to Canyon when he arrived in the city broke to accept a job on Judge C. T. Word's ranch, and had to sleep in the postoffice. He tried to get a job when the first building on the W. T. campus was under construction.

Governor Allred expressed great appreciation of the work being done at W. T., and the need for better financial support for the college. He believed that the reductions of two years ago were too drastic; that no greater cuts should be made, and that some restorations should be made. He expressed great pride in the work of the college, and hoped to see it continue to grow and prosper.

Moses Company to Move to New Location Tomorrow

The M. E. Moses Company will move to its new location Friday, and will open for business Saturday with an all day sale, which is announced in this issue of the News. The new location is in the Terry building which has been leased for a period of three years. A new front is being completed for the building, and other improvements made.

The Green Grocery will move to the present Moses location next week, as soon as the building can be repainted.

Week Remains in Which Delinquent Taxes May Be Paid

Property owners who owe delinquent taxes for 1935 and previous years have one more week in which to make such payments without interest or penalty. After March 15th all of these penalties and interest will be added to delinquent taxes as in the past.

Tax collector R. N. Barnett has mailed every property owner of Randall county a notice of his delinquent taxes, and many have taken advantage of the liberal offer of the state and county to remit these costs. Taxes which are not paid by March 15th will have all of the costs restored, and the owner not able to take advantage of the liberal discount which is now being made.

Raising Funds For the Cemetery Improvement

Water Supply Is Needed For Dreamland Cemetery

Women of Canyon have organized for the purpose of putting over the improvements at the cemetery. Committees are at work this week soliciting funds for the purpose of drilling a new well, putting up a windmill, and piping water to all parts of the cemetery.

A meeting will be held Saturday afternoon when a check-up will be made of funds which have been received, and it is hoped at that time work may be started on the improvement program at the cemetery.

Officers were elected as follows:

Mrs. R. A. Terrill, president.

Mrs. Clyde McElroy, vice president.

Mrs. E. D. Harrell, secretary and treasurer.

A former cemetery organization of which Mrs. F. M. Wilson was treasurer has contributed to the drilling of the well.

The commissioners court has provided for the general improvement of the cemetery under the direction of G. W. Stuart. The court asked the women of the community to undertake the raising of funds for the water supply and other improvements at the cemetery. Mr. Stuart is having the drives of the cemetery graded and put in shape, and is having all lots put in good shape. He has called for flowers and shrubbery to be planted in the beautification program.

Postal Receipts Are Increased in Amount Over 1934

The month of February showed an increase of postal receipts in the Canyon postoffice.

February of 1935 showed a total of $1,308.81 as compared with $1,170.61 for February, 1934.

January of this year had shown an increase over January, 1934. The total for the two months stands, 1935, $2,958.88, as compared with $2,769.91 for 1934.

Saturday Crowd Is Largest So Far as Ideal Weather Hits

Ideal weather prevailed Saturday, as a comparison to the high winds which have been the rule for the past three Saturdays.

The largest crowd that has gathered in Canyon for the Saturday trade event was in Canyon and greatly enjoyed the activities of the day.

The weekly trades event will continue next Saturday, with a cordial invitation being extended by the 64 business and professional firms through the Chamber of Commerce to be in Canyon Saturday, especially in the afternoon.

Car Licenses for 1935 May Be Placed on Automobiles

Starting Friday morning it was legal to place 1935 automobile plates on automobiles in Texas. Before that date it was against the law, but officers took no notice of the few who had bought and paid for their license plates before the enactment of the new law.

The law provides that all cars and trucks must be provided with the 1935 plates before midnight of April 1st.

Many automobile owners are now buying the new plates for 1935, and having them installed on their cars.

Governor Approves Appropriation For State Parks Work

The legislature has passed and Governor Allred approved an appropriation of $36,000 to carry on the work of the Texas State Parks board. The National Park Service recently requested this appropriation and threatened to curtail park work in Texas until the legislature make an appropriation.

FARM CENSUS OF COUNTY IS COMING TO A CLOSE; ALL FARMERS SHOULD BE LISTED

The farm census work is drawing to a close in Randall County, with orders that the two census takers close their work at once.

Possibly there are a number of farmers, and operators of farms who have been missed in the taking of this census.

A decrease in the number of farms in the county would be a great handicap to the farmers of the county, since allotments of the future will no doubt be based upon the number of farms shown by this census. Therefore, it is very necessary that every farmer be listed in this census.

Those who have been missed, or any one knowing of a farmer who has been missed, are requested to file the names with Mrs. James Cole at Chamber of Commerce and Emergency Feed Loan office.

It is reported that every farmer in Randall County will be vitally affected during the coming ten years by the number of farmers who are found in this census.

It is necessary that those who are missed be located at once, and reported so that the census may be completed.

Buffs Will Take on Simmons Champions

Wednesday and Thursday of Next Week for Battle

Owing to the continued bad weather this week, the Buffaloes cancelled the basketball game with the Panhandle Aggies which was scheduled for Guymon, Okla., Monday night.

Two games were scheduled for next week by Coach Al Baggett which promise to give the Buffaloes the real test of the season. The Hardin-Simmons University of Abilene will send the crack championship team here for next Wednesday and Thursday nights, March 13-14.

Simmons has won the championship of the Texas Conference for the past five years. The team went through the season without a conference defeat this season. The team has played the leading teams of the Southwest this year, and shows unusual strength.

The Buffs have settled down into a steady grind this week with the determination of handing the

Number of Baby Bonds Are Taken By Local People

Many citizens of Canyon bought the new Baby Bonds when they were placed on sale at the post office. The bonds run for a period of ten years, with interest accumulating. The bonds may be disposed of at any time through the local post office.

Several citizens have expressed interest in buying more bonds during this month, stated Guy Harp, postmaster.

Canyon Has Largest Number at Celebration

Mothers - in - Law, and Many Others in the Celebration

Canyon was well represented at the Mother-in-Law Day celebration at Amarillo Tuesday. Probably the largest delegation from any town outside of Amarillo came from Canyon. The representatives from this city included the members of the Mothers-in-Law club, the W. T. Band, athletes from W. T., Company F, and members of the Maverick Club.

The Buffalo Band was the official band for the Mothers-in-Law and played at various places in Amarillo throughout the day. In the line of parade, this band was placed second, and was followed by the Canyon Mothers-in-Law club, one of the largest in the Panhandle, by the delegation of Buffalo athletes from W. T., with "Mary Ann," the buffalo cow riding in a truck. Mary Ann was tagged, "Mother-in-law of the Buffaloes." Company F was with other guardsmen. Members of the Maverick Club joined the Amarillo Mavericks in hearing the Governor in a short talk.

The Canyon delegation was highly pleased with the part it played in the monster parade and the all day celebration.

Relief Funds Out and All Work Stopped Here

Check Expected Saturday For Next Week's Relief Work

All relief work was stopped in Randall county Thursday night as money was exhausted, and none was available for this week. Information has been received from Austin that a check will be mailed this week so that work may be resumed Monday on all projects in the county. The allotment for the county for March is a little less than the allotment for February.

H. S. Strain, county administrator, states that a considerable amount of commodities has been received for the benefit of the workers. In addition to the regular amount of canned beef which is kept on hand, the government has sent here a shipment of canned mutton, canned milk and 7,000 pounds of potatoes. A shipment of dry goods was received Monday, consisting of sheets, pillow cases, comforts, mattresses, women's dresses, girls' dresses and boys' shirts.

Relief work was stopped in most counties of the state this week owing to the fact that all funds were exhausted. Those who are on relief will lose one week's wages owing to this shut down, due to the fact that neither the legislature or congress had acted upon appropriation bills in time for the distribution of funds.

J. W. Spencer has resigned as case worker in the local relief office and his work will be taken over by Mrs. Berl E. Mayfield. Mrs. Mayfield will spend one week in the Amarillo office receiving instruction as to the work before assuming her work here.

For a long time it looked possible that the Palo Duro State Park might be the only project in Texas considered as a national Park. Now the eyes of Washington are focused upon the Big Bend country, where 225,000 acres have been secured for a state park, and it is hoped to increase this to a million acre tract. Across the river, Mexico is interested in adding another million acres if the United States starts this large Park. The Palo Duro remains by far the second largest in Texas, and there is possibilities of many thousands of acres being added to the present park under the marginal land bill. The accessibility of the Palo Duro and the greatly increased number of population of this section over the Big Bend sector should interest the government in making the Palo Duro a national park. Before the middle of the year developments may take place which will definitely determine the future of the Palo Duro and other parks in Texas.

Turning the cemetery project over to the women of the community was an excellent idea. The Commissioners' Court knew that the job would be done if given to the women to secure the money and put the job over. As bad as Monday was, committees of women walked the streets soliciting, and receiving subscriptions for the much needed work. Dreamland Cemetery is a beautiful burial ground, and with the added facilities of water the grounds will be greatly improved. This is the second major improvement which has been sponsored by the women of the community; the County Library was the first. When it comes to putting over civic improvement programs, there is no doubt that the women can get the work done with less degree of talk and delay than is the case when a group of men undertake such projects.

The News regrets that the Texas Centennial is getting off to such a bad start. Civic jealousy must be overcome, and more secure backing from the legislature must be given or the Centennial will be very little more than an enlarged state fair. Financing the Centennial through the issue of bonds against the corporation would be ample provision in flourinshing times; but now the bonds will not be gobbled up with the enthusiasm of the boom days when bond issues of every description were eagerly purchased. Hind sight is always better than foresight, but the mistake was made in not requiring an appropriation for the Centennial before the location was selected. This would not have placed Dallas in the embarrassing situation of being forced to largely finance the project.

The strike at El Paso of electrical works brings home forcefully to the public that all sorts of labor difficulties may be expected during this period of re-adjustment. Business has taken it on the chin in a big way since the beginning of the depression. There is practically no line of business which has not operated in the red during the past five years. Now that recovery looks to be in the offing, labor organizers step in demanding a complete restoration of wages, even before business starts to show a profit. This demand is at the bottom of the wage scale in the relief bill over which the President and Senate are at loggerheads. To work out of the depression will take the sympathetic understanding and co-operation of both labor and capital, with neither attempting to hog all of the gains in sight.

The new Maverick Club in Canyon has surprised all citizens in the number of boys who are getting right into the spirit of the club, and putting everything they have into the work that is being outlined for them. Boys are willing followers when they find capable leaders. They like to be directed. If they are not directed in the right way you may be sure that they are liable to be directed in the wrong way. Every citizen interested in the proper guidance of boys in the community will get in behind the club whole heartedly, and give the boys their confidence and support.

Faith of the common people in their government is shown by the reception of the baby bonds. The government could have secured three times as much money in a few hours at a lower rate of interest by offering the bonds in huge blocks to the big banks. The government wants all citizens to feel an interest in their government. If they have some tangible stock in this corporation they will feel a little more interest in the activities and welfare of the corporation. The baby bonds will continue to be sold for some time, giving every person an opportunity to buy.

The government has shown the people that it does not pay to harbor criminals even though those criminals be relatives. No criminal can survive long by himself, and no gang is sufficient within itself. It takes organization to put over big "deals" and escape the law. That is the reason that gangs have headquarters around every large city where they may secure reinforcements and supplies for their next job. To wipe out these headquarters is as necessary as capturing the criminals themselves.

Mussolini gives the word picture of European ideal when regretting the drop of birth rate in Italy. "The country is defrauded of more than 1,000,000 males, that is, future soldiers," scolded Mussolini. This correctly interprets the feeling of every European ruler; babies mean more soldiers for future wars. American mothers are not highly impressed with the idea of raising children merely for the purpose of providing targets for some enemy's bullets.

Canyon will be visited by a large number of people this month and next. The winds have made the town very ugly in spots, which should be cleaned up before the conventions start. There can be little enthusiasm in a clean up campaign while the sand and dust is rolling through the air and down the streets—but maybe it will rain before that time. If and when it does rain, a thorough clean up campaign should be started.

Ham Fish, congressman, is slating himself to run against President Roosevelt in 1936. The poor Fish will find that the revolt against the President is not so general as the Republicans are now talking. Furthermore, those Democrats who are showing their independence of the President will change their theme song when they have to carry their case to the voters.

The legislature is thinking of changing the Texas primary election law so as to abolish the necessity of a second primary. First choice would count as one vote, and second choice would count as a half vote. This manner would be as satisfactory, and would save much money and time to the candidates, and many a fitful stew for the voters.

Huey Long ended another special session of the Louisiana legislature which passed all his bills without reading them. He has decided to run for Governor instead of President. No doubt he is now convinced that Congress will not pass legislation with closed eyes as do Louisiana legislators.

Test of the editorial writer: to be optimistic this Monday, and boast about the glories of the Panhandle, while dust gathers on your typewriter (and everything else) and sand trickles down your neck. Wish we could ask John McCarty today about the glories of a West Texas sandstorm.

String Quartet Appears Here As Lyceum, Mar. 16

Scheduled as the fourth number on the current artist course is the appearance of the Curtis String Quartet, booked for March 16th. This group of artists, hailed as "each a master in performance of chamber music," will play in the auditorium of the Administration Building. The program will begin at 8:15 o'clock.

Members of the quartet are Jascha Brodsky, violin; Benjamin Sharlip, violin; Max Aronoff, viola; and Orlando Cole, violincello. Greeted by enthusiasm of music critics everywhere, the string quartet is variously described. "Enchanting in tone, spontaneity and eagerness of concerted action," says one reviewer. "Their tone had vitalized warmth and ranging color," praises another critic. And a third says, "Few string quartets could perform with such a wealth of tone, such flavor and intensity."

Lamesa Wins In Regional Tourney

In the second Interscholastic Regional basketball tournament held in Canyon under the auspices of West Texas State Teachers College, the Golden Tornadoes of Lamesa swept their opponents aside and won their title for the second consecutive year without defeat.

Last year the Tornadoes, after winning the Regional Tournament, went on to the State finals where they were nosed out by Athens.

In the first game of the tournament, Pampa nosed out Crowell by two points in a thrilling upset 29 to 27. J. R. Green, husky Pampa center, was the outstanding player of the game. In the second game Lamesa beat Amarillo 41 to 25. Crowell eliminated Amarillo Friday night with a 28 to 21 victory.

Lamesa wound up the fireworks Friday night by easily defeating Pampa 32 to 24.

Saturday morning Pampa eliminated Crowell by repeating their two point victory.

In the final game Saturday night, Pampa put up a much closer battle for Lamesa but were outclassed with the final score being 41 to 28.

Arrangements Made For Paleo. Excavations

Dr. C. A. Pierle and Professor C. Stuart Johnston were in Canadian Monday where arrangements were made to start a paleontological excavation in Hemphill county.

The immediate project is to remove the first ten feet of overburden from a fossil bed about fifteen feet from the surface. The first two layers are volcanic ash and clay. After these are removed, it will be possible for students from the college to excavate the bones from the remaining five feet of dirt. Mr. Johnston states that several kinds of horses, rhinosceros, giant dogs of several descriptions, and numerous other smaller animals are fossilized in this bed.

Funds for the removal of the dirt are provided for by the FERA Relief Organization of Hemphill County under administration of Troy Newton. V. I. Voorhees is the foreman in charge of the FERA workers.

Clock That Runs Until Dry

Water doesn't help most clocks. Try taking a bath without removing your wrist watch, and see. But water runs this ancient Egyptian time-piece, exhibited at a California show. As the water drains from the cylinder, the float descends, working the clock's gears.

'Out Where West Began,' New World's Fair Awaits Its Opening Day

WHEN the Chicago Century of Progress ended last fall, many persons undoubtedly sighed: "Wish we had seen it before it was too late." Well, many Americans, principally those in the west, will soon have a chance to view the attractions of another "World's Fair."

In May, a great exposition whose exhibits portraying man's progress will vie in interest with those of the Windy City's mammoth spectacle will open in San Diego, the "birthplace of California." Within sight of the harbor into which Juan Rodriquez Cabrillo, the "Columbus" of the Pacific, sailed four centuries ago, San Diegans are producing a show which they hope will prove an epic achievement, and a monument to the progressiveness of the Pacific state.

More than 25 nations will contribute to the Old World atmosphere in which the California Pacific International Exposition will be bathed. The influence of Old Spain will predominate, by reason of history and the classic Spanish architecture of San Diego's show buildings.

ART treasures valued at a fortune will attract the cultured. A zoological exhibit of birds, beasts and reptiles from every clime, including the only two mountain gorillas in captivity, will compete for the visitor's interest with the California Museum of Natural History's unusual display of ancient and modern-time plants, fish and animals.

Music-lovers will be enraptured by a massive million-dollar outdoor organ. A Palace of Education will portray man's inspiring struggle for knowledge. In the Palace of Electricity will be pictured graphically the change in human life wrought by electricity.

Today's ultra-modern home, and that of the future, will be shown and described in detail for the edification of home-minded fair attendants.

Elsewhere in the exposition grounds, the progress of science, history and transportation will be vividly enacted, step by step.

Two of San Diego's "fair" representatives greet visitors to the cathedral-like Palace of Foods and Beverages, one of the exotic buildings which will house exhibits at the California Pacific International Exposition.

Dramatizing one of the early phases of California's history, a typical mining camp of the '49 gold rush era will be reproduced in a twisting gulch on the fair grounds. The shacks, costumes and gold-mining methods of that day will be copied almost to perfection. Nearby, a modern camp with its present-day machinery and equipment will show, by contrast, the progress made in the years since.

A colorful highlight of the fair will be a mass flight of 1000 planes in the skies above the exposition.

Surfeited with man-made wonders, the vistor may turn to Nature and view its magic, exhibited in the wealth of tropical flora in vast Balboa Park, "stage" of the great show.

Back in 1915, San Diego presented an exposition that drew some 3,000,000 visitors, and proved a huge success. Considering this experience, the great regular influx of tourists to the Pacific region, and the fact that many westerners could not, because of the distance, attend the Chicago event, San Diego exposition officials believe they are not too optimistic in predicting an attendance of at least 5,000,000 at their 1935 presentation.

Fort Worth Delegation Here Tues.

Canyon was host to a delegation of Fort Worth business men Tuesday when 40 members of the Roundup Club visited here in the interest of the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show which will be held in Fort Worth March 16 to 24. The Roundup Club is an organization of Fort Worth business men who give their time and services to boosting the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, annual Livestock Exposition which is operated without individual profit. More than 65 new bucking horses are included in the list of 120 rodeo horses which will be used in this year's rodeo. New free acts will appear on the midway.

Invertebrate Fossils Are New Gift to Museum

The most recent addition to the collection of invertebrate fossils in the Museum was made this week by Vere MacNeal, a member of the faculty of the State Teachers College at Denton, and an enthusiastic amateur paleontologist. MacNeal chose the specimens from among those found in a cretaceous formation not far from Denton.

The invertebrate collection is growing rapidly, Dr. C. E. Decker of Oklahoma University having recently sent to it a fine selection of fossils from a larger Pennsylvania collection.

Professor C. Stuart Johnston states that he has been promised some microscopic fossils from the marine formations of East Texas, and these are expected at an early date.

When the invertebrate fossil collection is complete it will represent all of the geological periods, and will give students of paleontology a good idea of the life of each period, and of the specimens which are to be found in different sections of the United States.

Such collections are built up through the co-operation of scientists of many sections, without the expenditure of much money. Students find the specimens invaluable for examination and study in connection with their class work in paleontology.

Henry Bradford has returned from Shattuck, Okla., where he has been with his brother, Roscoe Bradford, who has been seriously ill.

Mrs. J. H. Braswell left Friday for Mena, Ark., where she will spend some time at the home of her daughter.

From a garden 90 by 100 feet, Mrs. C. L. Gordon-Cummings, Farm Food Supply Demonstrator for the West Side Home Demonstration Club, provided more than enough vegetables and fruits to fill a food budget for her family of two in 1934. In a concrete lined cellar costing $15.00 and containing 125 feet of shelves, a gas light and a water faucet, she has stored 886 containers valued at $184.65. In addition to 150 quarts of canned meats, she has 200 pounds of cured meats. The total cost of the pantry including the money spent on the cellar was $30.00.

It pays to be good, we are told, but even the good dollar is often drawn and quartered.

If They Were Only Real!

If these germs, displayed at a Los Angeles jewelry show, were real diamonds, they'd represent a fortune. But they're only copies. Betty Roth holds a replica of the famous jubilee diamond; and, on the table, left to right, are duplicates of the Grand Mogul, the Kohinoor as it was some years ago and as, re-ground, it is today.

MAVERICK CLUB

NUMBER TWO

Canyon, Texas

By Pat Noser

Well boys, hello some more. We're back on the air. The present enrollment of our club is 118, which isn't so bad for a town no larger than Canyon. And what is good is that of that 118 boys there will not be a one that will not take an active part of all the various activities of the club.

We have so many different types of things to do, too, that we can't get around to all of them. There is boxing and wrestling, basketball, horizontal bar work, tumbling, soft ball, and many others.

What is attracting the most attention right now is the new handball court that Coach Baggett had built in the gymnasium. None of us have ever played before, and it looks like it is harder to play than it seemed, but we will all have a good time trying to learn.

Now the best news that I have heard in a long time is the announcement of Coach Baggett that we will be permitted to go swimming on certain days in the renovated swimming pool. Hurrah for the good ole swimmin' hole.

At our last regular meeting the regional basketball tournament was being held in the gym, and so we took off to watch it. We all got in on our Maverick cards, and was the game between Pampa and Crowell a thriller? Both teams played fast all the way through, and we couldn't tell until the last minute who was going to win. Didn't that Nash of Pampa look good. Wish I could score points like he did.

Say, we are getting ambitious already. We haven't been organized very long, but some of the Mavericks looked like professionals at this boxing and wrestling. So we up and challenged the Amarillo Maverick Club to a boxing and wrestling meet in the various weights in an exhibition at the CCC camp Tuesday night, March 12. Sure hope they don't balk out on us.

Principals in Oklahoma Trial

Trial scene in a mysterious murder case which threatened vaguely to implicate members of Tulsa's young social set, the Pawnee, Okla., courthouse, below, was the center of state interest as Philip Kennamer, 19, top right, son of a federal judge, went on trial on the charge of murder of John Gorrell, Jr., bottom right. Kennamer alleged that Gorrell planned to extort money from a Tulsa oil magnate with the threat of kidnaping his daughter, Virginia Wilcox, left. In a struggle which resulted when he tried to foil the plot, Kennamer claimed, Gorrell was shot accidentally.

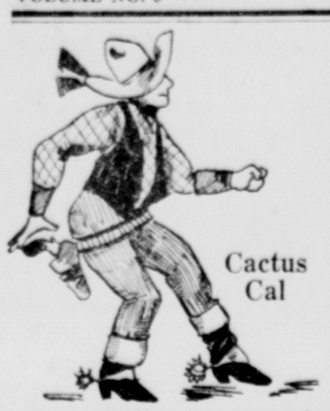
THE EAGLE'S TALE

VOLUME NO. 9 CANYON, TEXAS, MARCH 7, 1935. NUMBER 25



Seeing all those seniors running around like kids last Friday made me feel just like a kid again myself. I was really proud for those seniors cause they were acting so happy. Some of them had suckers, and some dolls and some double bubble gum, and little Mary May Harrison brought her ball and jacks.

I learned a new word the other day. I was hanging around the Journalism room, and Miss Goodrich assigned the kids to write a parrody. At first I thought she meant something about these bright colored birds that talk, but before long I found out it was only a poem copied after another poem.

Imagine! Just imagine! I saw "Hankie Bell" (Hal) Gamble and Evelyn Cluck at the show last Wednesday night, and looking a little farther I saw Bill Cone and Mary Collins seated right by each other. And I bet you can't guess who was in front of them!

Boy, isnt Sewel and Fat Cox's new V8 a honey! That's really a good looking boat, if you ask me. And they tell me Polly's dad sold it to them. Well, well. I'd sure like to take a ride in it.

Old Israfel and me shore thought the world was coming to an end Friday, when that sandstorm hit with the shrieks of Gabriel's horn, and, boy, I knew for sure that the Day of Reckonin' had come Sunday.

The Canyon Eaglettes were eliminated from the district tournament at Tulia last Friday night by the Dimmitt lassies.

Third Grade Has Japanese Tea

"Friday, if you'll come to tea,
Very happy we shall be;
And we'll show you then, perhaps,
The funny customs of the Japs."

Thus read the invitations to the twenty-seven mothers and friends who attended the Japanese tea given by Miss Gwendolyn Black's third grade class Friday afternoon from one-thirty until two-thirty. All the twenty-four children were dressed in Japanese kimonas and took part in the program, which was as follows:

Welcome—Poem, Class.
Japanese Home, Anita Davis.
Japanese Dress, Shirley Harrell.
Little Maid of Far Japan, All Girls.
Japanese Meal, Helen Ruth Tate.
Japanese Bed, Martha Hammond.
A Bow, Frank Sharman.
Mia Sa Ma, song, Class.
New Year's Day, Dick Woods.
Celebrating New Year's, Jane Speck.
Japanese Schools, Mary Platt.
Fujiyama, Elwyn Morton.
Tongue-cut Sparrow, story, Andy Lee Walsh.
Japanese Sandman, song, Class.
To Our Guests, poem, Class.

The tea table was decorated with orange flowers and candles. Little Misses Carolyn Black and Shirley Harrell poured tea and were assisted by other children of the class. With the tea were served frosted cakes and peppermints. Favors were Japanese parasols.

After the tea, the guests were invited to inspect the tea house, which was built, painted, and furnished by the children.

Guests present were Mesdames Dowd, Black, Walsh, Word, Sharman, Croson, Harrell, Davis, Platt, Pope, Harter, Tate, Pike, Bosley, Hammond, Steen, Anthony, Morton, Bosley, Carruth, Bradford, Black, Barker, and Misses Courtney, Pronabarger, Singleton, and McClanahan.

NEW HOME ECONOMICS UNIT IS STARTED

The second year Home Economics Class started working on a new unit of work, February 22.

MRS. W. T. DAVIS TALKS TO P.T.A. STUDY GROUP

"WHAT KIND OF A PERSON WILL YOUR CHILD BE?" SUBJECT OF MEETING; ROUND TABLE DISCUSSION HELD.

"What kind of a person will your child be?" was the question for discussion in the P. T. A. Study Club last Thursday, Feb. 28. Mrs. W. T. Davis was in charge of the program.

"Of course each mother has an ideal for her child to reach to be 'a success in life,'" was the opening statement by Mrs. Davis. According to her, there are two kinds of personality: a weak and a strong type. In defining the two types of personality, Mrs. Davis said, "A weak personality, is one built on a child's weaknesses, and a strong one is built on his strengths or the strong points in his character."

A weak personality is one which does not show to the world the true being of the child; the child unconsciously defends certain defects of himself from the world, Mrs. Davis told the group.

"To help your child develop a strong personality, have him form his own opinions and make his own decisions as he gradually grows older," she said.

A child having a strong personality overcomes whims and asserts himself among his associates. He can think through questions more clearly than older people think he can.

"Present true facts to your children on all occasions," said Mrs. Davis.

Round Table Discussion

Those present had a round table discussion on the following six questions:

(1). Give examples of both children and adults who have constructed for themselves a "phantasy world" in which they are attempting to live. Trace the results from the point of view of both achievement and personality traits.

(2). How can parents be guided in helping their children to remedy certain defects of character? How far is it wise to struggle with short comings and limitations? To what extent should we, on the other hand, accept them and bend our energies to building personality on the basis of whatever positive capacities exist?

(3). At what age and how can children best learn the truth about disease, death, social injustices, and cruelty? Will such knowledge threaten their fundamental feeling of security? How is real emotional security built?

(4). Name some of the characteristic psychic problems and conflicts of adults which tend to prevent them from coping clear-headedly with their children. What can parents do within themselves to fit themselves better for the task?

(5). Name some of the widely accepted and conventional tendencies of our present social and moral order which seem to you false or dubious. What is the obligation of parents and teachers in presenting these matters to children?

(6). What are some of the characteristics "modes of escape" used by adults? When do art and other cultural pursuits function as an escape? When have they more constructive uses? How may we educate a new generation toward such constructive uses of culture?

Devotional Held

Mrs. Joe Black had charge of the devotional. Her point stressed was: "Man has two creators—God and himself."

The P. T. A. Study Club will have their next meeting March 14 in the high school auditorium. Mrs. John B. Pope will lead in discussing the topic: "How worry and fatigue affect family life."

Seniors and Sophomores Play In Intramural Finals Wed.

Intramural Basketball began last Wednesday when the Sophomores defeated the Juniors by majority 36-16. The second game began immediately after the first when the Seventh Grade emerged victorious over the Freshmen by a 23-18 count.

Continuing the following day the Sophomores were again victorious over the Seniors. The Junior five eliminated the Freshman quintet from the tournament in the fourth game of the series, 24 to 8.

The Sophomores are favored to win the title, having won two game and no defeats, their strongest contestant being defeated by the Sophs by a substantial majority in a previous game.

Now that the basketball season is over, it is time for track and spring football to start. There are several track men coming out.

The Eagle football eleven of '35, will be led by a new, but dependable captain, Wesley Cox. Wesley has been an outstanding star for the last two years on the Eagle team. Coach Jones urges all boys to come out next week in order to get an early start for next year.

Intramural basketball adds to C. H. S. many probable basketeers. In the seventh grade the Breitling brothers, and D. A. Butler showed up well. Douglas Brasuel and Fairy Hill were outstanding players for the frosh. The sophomores support a good intramural team with three future Eagle basketeers, Ralph Rusk, Benson Clounch, and Ray Ford Rusk. The two latter were ineligible to play on this year's team because of their grades. They have gained eligibility for the tournament. The juniors placed two men on the Eagle basketball team this year. Sewel Cox, Wandell Johnson, and Jack Jennings are the mainstays on the junior intramural team. Three of the seniors were lettermen in basketball this season. In spite of the loss of Lawrence Fulton, O. M. Solomon, and Curtis Elliston, who were on the Eagle team, the seniors have several good basketeers left. Among these are Wade Johnson, Kenneth Cayton, Bud Meyers, and Roland Black.

Flesher, Watkins Entertain Juniors

Billie Bee Flesher and Lavena Watkins gave parties for the Junior class last Thursday and Friday nights.

Billie Bee Flesher entertained the class Tuesday night, Feb. 26. Games of dominoes, bridge, and other games were played. Cherry nut ice cream and cookies were served to those present.

Friday night, March 1, Lavena Watkins entertained the class. Only ten members of the class were present. House games and various card games were played. While playing cards, the guests were served punch. Later, sandwiches, olives, and cookies were served.

Program of Poe's Works Presented By Library Staff

An Edgar Allan Poe Program was presented by the library staff in assembly Thursday.

"Anabel Lee," one of Poe's most widely known poems, was read by Margaret Croson, accompanied by a tableau showing Poe at work writing and seeing a vision of Virginia, his child wife, playing the harp. Poe was portrayed by Jack Taylor, and Virginia by Edith Steen.

"The Raven" was read by Irene Thompson and accompanied by a tableau showing Poe as he saw the raven. Jack Taylor again portrayed Poe.

The program was concluded with a radio-play, "The Raven's First Flight." The scenes and characters were as follows: Scene one, At the home of Poe's aunt, Mrs. Clemm, in Baltimore; Scene two, At the office of the Saturday Visitor, an important journal of Baltimore. Scene three, Again at Mrs. Clemm's.

Time: 1833.

Characters

Virginia Clemm, Mary May Harrison.
Mrs. Clem, Chloie Hail.
Edgar Allan Poe, Hal Gamble.
Mr. Kennedy, editor of the Saturday Visitor, Ralph Rusk.
Mr. Burke, also of the Saturday Visitor, Sherman Higdon.
Announcer, Polly Little.

At the bottom of the programs that were given out to the students as they entered assembly was the following tribute to the librarians:

"Football boys get their sweaters; basketball girls get their emblems; press club members get their names in print; but, alas, librarians work for their fellow students day after day the school year through unnoticed and unsung!

"Oh, here's to the loyal librarians who patiently answer your questions, who get you the book that you want, (if it isn't 'out'), who patiently mend the volumes you've torn—Librarians the accomodating, the wise, the alert!"

Agriculture Class Visits W. T. Farm

The Agriculture Class went to the W. T. College Farm last Friday to observe the means of measuring off terraces.

On a sloping piece of ground the tripod was set up and leveled, and the level was set. Then each person took turn sighting through the level. Then the tripod was moved to a different spot and the process of setting the level and sighting was repeated.

The students learned that by the use of a farm level in terracing a person is sure of getting the right distance and fall between each terrace.

March Birthdays Ruled By Pisces

All Canyon High students born from February 19 to March 20 are ruled by the decans of Pisces.

Doyle Neff, who was born Mar. 1, has an active urge to expand in life. He should be very careful of the vocation he chooses. His health will always be good except that his habit of worrying will weaken his nerves.

March 2, is John Morris's birthday—John should be very constructive in the world. He has a good disposition and his time will always be well budgeted.

Vannie Robertson's birthday is March 6. She should choose a husband that is broad-minded and generous.

Winnie Dee Hicks, born March 8, has the ability to reach high in the world. Winnie Dee should be very careful about her nerves.

Sanford Black, born March 9, should study hard, for his vocational talent lies in a field made up of brain work and competition.

Estill Furlow's birthday is the 10th of March. Estill has a tendency to be extravagent; this should be stifled. He must take great care in choosing a wife.

Hal Gamble, born March 11, should avoid over indulgence. Enthusiasm, when out of balance, affects health; be watchful.

March 12th is Lester Smith's birthday. Lester should create an estate. His services will help a few rather than many.

Wilma Price, born March 14, has the possibility of giving the world a famous child.

Wilda Marsh, born March 19, should be more thorough in her work. She is likely to be very successful in her work.

Phillip Whitman should be very careful in choosing his wife. She will rule his destiny. Phillip's birthday is March 20th.

Herbert Mariner has a rather strong nature. He should be very sure that every project, to which he gives his time is worth the time spent on this project.

O. M. Solomon, born March 23, should use his head all of the time. Many changes will come in his life.

Edith Steen, whose birthday is March 23, is very apt to love one older than she is. Her home will be a happy one.

Mary Catherine Wirt, born Mar. 24, should avoid friction with her employees.

Raymond Bible should guard his health. He will have numerous domestic problems. Raymond's birthday is the 25th.

Wesley Cox, born on the 26th, should choose a wife that is well versed in his profession. He may have an office, of some type, in his home.

John B. Pope should take a vocation where he is in contact with the public. John was born the 28th.

Hampton Lisle, born the 29th, has a successful life before him, if he will do his own work.

Misses Lenna Foster, Gwendolyn Black, Ruth Greenfield and Frances Singleton were in Amarillo Saturday.

Short Dresses! Hair Ribbons! Gum! Jacks! Portray Seniors for Kid Day

By Yvonne Thomas

"First!" exclaimed a little girl with a hair ribbon in her hair as she sat down to play jacks with some other senior girls who had turned "kid" last Friday.

Boys, wearing short pants, scampered about in front of the school building. The genuine spirit, they had had in olden days, was awakened.

Boys and girls hurried in and out the door of Stroud's Grocery. Their hands were empty—except for money when they entered. When they came out again, they had suckers, gum, and candy.

Some of the "kids" gave a program in Miss Brasuel's Home Economics Class. Little Jewel Chambers gave a reading, "Tharah Thathania Hhavronia Thweet." Chloie Hail said, "Humpty Dumpty." She forgot part of it; so Rowena Lockwood finished it for her. Others remarked that they had forgotten theirs, and little Rubye Foster said that she was scared.

At noon the "kids" were out in front of the high school building again. Some were skipping, riding stick horses, playing jacks, sucking suckers, carrying dolls, and chatting in the usual way.

All day long, their childish shrieks and laughter could be heard along the halls of C. H. S.

After school with gaiety and laughter, they crowded the streets on the way to the matinee where they saw "Babbit" on the screen.

After the show, they hurried home to tell their mothers what a delightful time they had at school and how they liked the show.

That night the same little boys and girls appeared at the grade school gymnasium for a "kid" party. They stiff-starched, ran races and did other things that kids usually do. When the party began they played "Crane and Crow," "Going to Jerusalem, "Bean Bag," and other similiar games. The party progressed rapidly, and the "kids" were very enthusiastic about the games they played.

Refreshments of ice cream cones were served.

The class voted on the boy and girl that looked the most like a "kid." Kenneth Cayton, dressed in short pants that buttoned on to the waist, won the boy's prize. Mary Ella Lowe, dressed in a yoked dress with panties to match, won the girl's prize.

(LOWER LEFT) Studio entrance through which the public will pass to view recording and projection of sound pictures. (CENTER) Screen and rear projector system. (RIGHT) Glass enclosed Projection Room showing latest projector and Western Electric reproducer set.

Fascinating secrets of sound recording and projection of talking motion pictures will be revealed to the general public for the first time Friday, March 8th, when Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's elaborate Traveling Motion Picture Studio visits this city on its world educational exhibition tour.

The Traveling Motion Picture Studio, which was designed and constructed to specifications by the Metro - Goldwyn - Mayer company, world's largest motion picture producing organization, at a cost of $150,000, will be placed on exhibition from 4:00 until 7:00 p. m. at the Olympic Theatre.

This studio on wheels, W. J. Wooten says, combines facilities for both the recording as well as the projection of sound motion pictures, and the sound equipment aboard the studio is in itself valued at close to $50,000. It is the regulation Western Electric apparatus used in the Hollywood studios and in principal theatres throughout the country.

During the studio's brief visit here, this equipment will be open for public inspection by citizens of this city. They will be permitted to enter the studio, and will have an opportunity not only of seeing the equipment which makes the talkies talk, but will be able to see the operations manifested in both the filming as well as the projection of sound films on the screen.

Sound technicians from the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios in Culver City, California, where the great M-G-M pictures are produced, are numbered among the distinguished Hollywood party traveling with the studio, and visitors to the studio on wheels will be privileged to interview the motion picture men when the studio arrives here.

One of Hollywood's outstanding makeup artists, Marcia LaPine, who officially represents the Max Factor makeup studios in Hollywood, and who has had a wealth of experience making up stars at the studios there, will visit here with the Hollywood caravan and will gladly answer any questions asked by feminine visitors to the studio.

Why Southwestern Life Registers Every Policy It Issues

INSURANCE laws of the State of Texas provide how a life insurance company of Texas may register its policies. A registering company must deposit approved securities in an amount adequate for the protection of policyholders.

The Registration Law requires the segregation of policyholders' funds, thus preventing substitution of assets without the knowledge and consent of the State Insurance Department. Experience of the last five years has demonstrated the effect and value of registration laws.

The Registration Law makes mandatory the valuation of the required securities at the current market. A company which elects to operate under a market valuation law evidences the intention to invest policyholders' funds with added caution.

Many good companies do not elect to register their policies, and we urge policyholders of such companies to maintain their insurance in force.

Army Plane Lands South of Town in Tuesday's Storm

Unable to see owing to the dust storm, an army plane circled Canyon Tuesday noon, trying to find a landing place. Two officers in the plane finally decided to attempt the landing south of the city. With the dust fogging over the ground the pilot doubted whether he could drop his landing gear into place for use, and tried a landing on the plane's belly. The landing was successful, the only damage being done was to the propeller blades.

Plane service has been greatly handicapped over the Southwest during the recent heavy dust storms.

Kansas Tornado Makes 1935 Debut

Whirling furiously toward Wichita, Kan., this aerial maelstrom of destruction, heralding the opening of the Sunflower state's tornado season, was snapped by a daring cameraman before it swept through the suburbs and reduced a group of homes and business buildings to debris.

Duster Sunday Is Termed Worst History of the Plains

The most terrific sandstorm ever to hit the Plains came Sunday afternoon from the west. The blow continued Monday and Tuesday, but subsided yesterday somewhat with a rising barometer and a cold wave from the north.

The storm hit Canyon at 3:25 Sunday afternoon, and for about 15 minutes the air was simply black with dust and dirt so that it was necessary to turn on all lights. Traffic was tied up on the streets and highways as drivers could not see ten feet ahead of them, car lights failing to penetrate the darkness of a dust ladened air.

The storm broke here with little wind, which caused great uneasiness for those who had been thru tornadoes. To the west a very high wind had struck which sucked the sand and dirt into the air and driven it in cloud formation before a wind almost in extent of a gale. The dust clouds cleared somewhat in an hour, followed by a light shower, but the air continued full of dust throughout the night.

The wind blew hard Monday, keeping the air filled with dust.

Tuesday morning was clear, but before ten o'clock the wind had again started in to blow.

Wednesday morning the wind switched to the north, and with a rapidly rising barometer, the temperature dropped. Snow which was promised, failed to show up.

R. E. Baird, citizen of Randall county since 1883, stated that Sunday was by far the worst dust storm he had ever witnessed. Other long time residents agreed that the storm far surpassed anything they had ever experienced.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORTS

Pre-Season Reports Indicate That 1935 Will Produce Bumper Crop of Scintillating Rookies

BY PHILIP MARTIN

WHEN warm breezes blow through major league training bases in the Southland, that perennial hope of all baseball pilots—that somewhere in the new crop of rookies lurks an embryo Ruth, Cobb or Johnson—blooms like the proverbial flowers in spring.

This year's bunch of freshmen is unusually promising. Let's examine them and see if we can pick out a few who may scintillate under the big top during the coming year.

Ellsworth Dahlgren, late of the Missions, will make his Boston debut and try to fill the gaping hole of last year around first base at Fenway Park.

The White Sox picked up a swell piece of baseball bric-a-brac in Vernon Washington, who starred at Indianapolis in 1934 with a batting average of .367 and the best fielding mark in the American Association.

New Orleans sends Albert Milnar, a southpaw hurler, to help the highly touted Cleveland Indians—and if there's one thing the pennant-bound Tribe needs it's bigger and better southpaw slingers.

Over Gotham way one Jesse T. Hill is being groomed to step into the huge brogans of the Sultan of Swat, because of his stalwart stickwork at Newark last year.

Fay Thomas, back for his fourth try in the majors, will perform for the Browns, after wining 28 and losing but four for Los Angeles in 1934.

And Bucky Harris is depending on Fred Sington, up from Albany, to do a lot of outfielding for the Senators.

• • •

IN the National League, the Cincinnati Reds' inner works will be completely rehabilitated with a $125,000 infield composed of John Mize, Alex Kampouris, Lew Riggs and William Myers.

Stanley Bordagaray, ex-White Soxer, will perform for the Brooklyn Dodgers under Casey Stengel. Bordagaray, you may recall, turned in some mighty fine work for Chicago last year, but was shipped back to Sacramento because of the large price tag attached to him.

The Boston Braves are hoping that Rabbit Maranville's broken leg knits properly, but his age makes that a bit doubtful. To be on the safe side, they are going to keep Joseph Coscarart, who did a very elegant job of infielding for Seattle.

Philly fans are expecting a great deal from Johnny Pezzullo, southpaw slabber, and James Bivin, right-handed hurler. At Galveston last year Bivin pitched 28 consecutive scoreless innings.

Other rookies who will bear watching are Alex Hooks, Jimmy Foxx' successor at the initial bag for the A's; Phil Cavarretta, youthful Cub first sacker; Cy Blanton, smokeball artist for the Pirates; and Al Cuccinello, who may bolster the Giants' infield.

So take care, you vets! The rookies will get your jobs if you don't watch out!
